

Diversification. Teamwork. Dedication.

Our commitment to excellence is an integral part of everything we do.

Over the last decade, our firm's rapid growth can be attributed to a solid commitment to respond quickly, accurately and efficiently to the needs and desires of our clients. Meyer Capel employs 29 attorneys, each a respected member of the legal community and each dedicated to providing the highest caliber of legal advice and services. Our attorneys are active on the local, county and state levels; three are past presidents of the Champaign County Bar Association.

Meyer Capel believes strongly in developing expertise and teamwork. Each attorney concentrates in one or more areas of legal practice, ranging from domestic relations to commercial litigation. But we don't work strictly as individuals. We work as a team, sharing ideas, opinions, advice—all of which are directed at a single goal: providing the best possible legal counsel for our clients.

Whether a particular legal problem involves personal matters such as wills, trusts, adoptions and real estate, or business concerns such as incorporations, contracts and labor law, there is at least one attorney on our staff with the special skill and knowledge required to understand the legal ramifications involved.

While each of our attorneys practices in an area of concentration, the real strength of Meyer Capel lies in our ability to exercise teamwork. The fact that one member of the firm may call upon another for assistance and advice on a particular legal matter broadens our capacity to address a variety of client concerns.

Diversification. Teamwork. Dedication to excellence and personal service. These are the qualities that have helped Meyer Capel grow. These are the qualities that we, as a firm, pledge to maintain.
